TOBACCO DISPARITIES AWARENESS

Dr. Lourdes Baezconde-Garbanati and Dr. Francisco Buchting are members of the NLTCN Steering Committee and of the Tobacco Research Network on Disparities (TReND) and they wanted the NLTCN network members to be alert to the most comprehensive website on research on tobacco control and disparities:

www.tobaccodisparities.org.

Please explore this exceptional website.

In November they shared a supplement published by the American Journal of Preventive Medicine. See below.

Tobacco Policy and Its Unintended Consequences Among Low Socioeconomic Status Women, journal supplement published by the American Journal of Preventive Medicine

Acknowledgements

This supplement was supported by the National Cancer Institute's Office of Science Planning and Assessment. The editors are indebted to the many TReND members who conducted the thoughtful initial reviews of abstract submitted for this special issue, and to Yumiko Mochizuki for her willingness to help. They are also grateful for the responsive assistance of the AJPM production staff and the attentiveness of the authors throughout the process of developing this issue.
